Gospel Message

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

There was once a king who wanted to visit a village. He sent a messenger ahead of him saying, "The king is coming! Prepare the village and get ready to welcome him." Some people believed the messenger and prepared. Others laughed and ignored him. When the king finally arrived, many were not ready because they had not listened.

Today's Gospel gives us a similar message. The disciples asked Jesus about Elijah, who was expected to come before the Messiah. Jesus told them, "Elijah has already come," referring to John the Baptist. John came to prepare the way for Jesus, but many people did not recognize him.

The problem was not that God failed to send His messenger. The problem was that people failed to recognize the messenger. This can happen in our lives too. We often expect God to speak to us through extraordinary events, but God frequently speaks through ordinary people—our parents, spouse, children, friends, teachers, priests, and even through difficult situations.

John the Baptist's message was simple: Prepare your heart for the Lord. Change your life and return to God.

We may come to Mass, pray our prayers, and participate in many religious activities, but the real question is: Are we allowing Jesus to change our hearts? Is there someone we need to forgive? Is there something we need to change? Is there someone who needs our love and help?

Dear brothers and sisters, Jesus still comes into our lives. He comes through His Word, through the Eucharist, through the people around us, and through the needs of others.

Let us not miss Him because we are too busy or because we are looking for Him in the wrong places. Let us listen, recognize His presence, and prepare the way for Him by the way we live.

Lord Jesus, open our eyes to recognize You, open our ears to hear You, and open our hearts to receive You. Help us to prepare the way for You in our families, our parish, and our community. Amen.
